

Intro-Entertainment Industry ~ Trade (Pt 2)

Sites (pt. 2)

We drift from show to show with no real focus on where we wish to end up. I never realized that unless I planned my life—life would plan it for me.

Brody, Jane Drake. The Actor's Business Plan: a Career Guide for the Acting Life. Bloomsbury, 2017.

From the Introduction to The Big Funk by John Patrick Shanley

Don't act for money. You'll start to feel dead and bitter.

Don't act for glory. You'll start to feel dead, fat, and fearful.

We live in an era of enormous cynicism. Do not be fooled.

You can't avoid all the pitfalls. There are lies you must tell. But experience the lie. See it as something dead and unconnected that you clutch. And let it go.

Act from the depth of your feeling imagination. Act for celebration, for search, for grieving, for worship, to express that desolate sensation of wandering through the howling wilderness.

Don't worry about Art.

Do these things, and it will be Art.

The above quote applies equally to theatre technicians who work behind the scenes. Replace "act" with "create" and consider how these words affect any artistic process.

Trade Site ~ IATSE

- Founded in 1893
- The International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees
- Represents workers in the entertainment industry

- Members work in all forms of live theater, motion picture and television production, trade shows and exhibitions, television broadcasting, and concerts as well as the equipment and construction shops that support all these areas of the entertainment industry
- IATSE represents virtually all behind the scenes workers necessary to the functioning of the entertainment industry, from all forms of live entertainment to motion picture and television to conventions and trade shows
- There are local unions for geographic areas, divided into 13 districts between the U.S. and Canada
- Each local functions independently, maintaining their own Constitution and By-Laws, elections, dues structure, membership meetings, and more
- Locals negotiate labor contracts regarding wages, work rules, and grievance procedures. They also provide services to their members by administering health and retirement funds and providing training and education
- The IATSE local unions work for the interest of their membership, while also representing the overarching goals of the IATSE International
- <http://www.iatse.net/>
- <http://www.iatse7denver.org/hall-rules.html>

Actors' Equity

- Website: <https://www.actorsequity.org/>
- Actors' Equity Association was founded in 1913 and formally recognized in 1919 by the American Federation of Labor
- Colorado is in the Western region of Actors' Equity
- See the PDF Actors' Equity at a glance in the Content section for week 3
- Pros and Cons of joining AEA

SAG/AFTRA

- Website: <https://www.sagaftra.org/>
- Screen Actors Guild and American Federation of Television and Radio Artists

- Both formed in the 1930s
- SAG-AFTRA represents approximately 160,000 actors, announcers, broadcast journalists, dancers, DJs, news writers, news editors, program hosts, puppeteers, recording artists, singers, stunt performers, voiceover artists and other media professionals.
- Steps to membership

Five Minutes ~ Journal

- Make sure to write in your Dream Journal this week. (This is a graded assignment that you will turn in during the final week of the semester.) Write about what you feel right now, at this moment, when you think about your future in the entertainment industry and what it might look like. Dreams, fears, hopes . . .